

Backstage Baton on your phone

One tap to your schedule, your seat and your music. About a minute to set up.

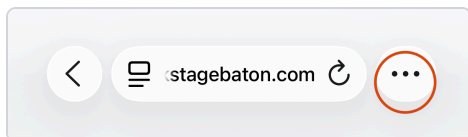

There is nothing to download. Backstage Baton already runs in your phone's browser — this just puts an icon on your home screen so you can open it in one tap instead of typing the address. No App Store, no Google Play, same sign-in as always.

iPhone

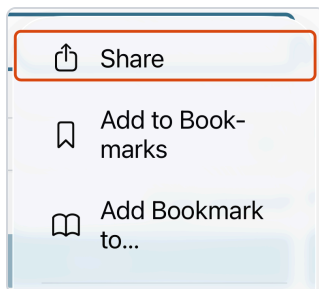

use Safari

1. Open Safari and go to app.backstagebaton.com/app. Stop at the sign-in screen — you do not need to sign in yet.
2. Tap the ... button at the bottom right of the screen.
3. Tap Share at the top of the menu that appears.
4. Scroll down that list and tap Add to Home Screen.
5. Tap Add in the top right. The icon is now on your home screen — open it and sign in there, once.

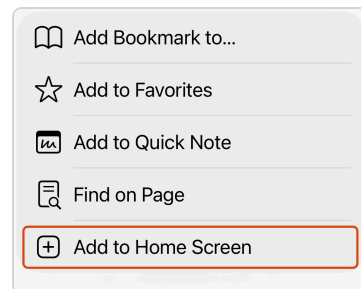

STEP 2 — tap ...

STEP 3 — tap Share

STEP 4 — scroll, tap Add

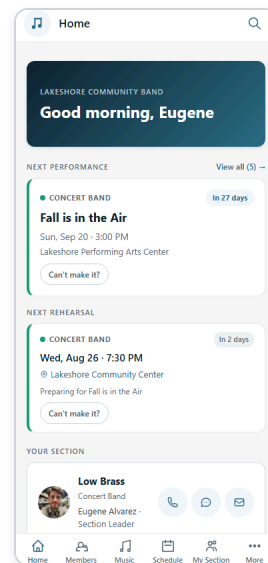

The orange ring shows what to tap. And you will need to scroll: "Add to Home Screen" sits below the row of app icons, past Copy and Add to Bookmarks — keep going and you will find it.

Android

use Chrome

1. Open Chrome and go to app.backstagebaton.com/app. Stop at the sign-in screen — you do not need to sign in yet.
2. Chrome often offers a bar at the bottom: Add Backstage Baton to Home screen. Tap it and you are done.
3. No bar? Tap the three dots in the top right corner.
4. Tap Install app or Add to Home screen.
5. Tap Install when it asks. Open the new icon and sign in there, once.

Phones word it differently. Samsung and Pixel change the wording slightly, but it is always in that three-dot menu — look for Install or Home screen.

Your next rehearsal, your next concert and your section — without signing in every time.

It is not really an app

It takes almost no space and never needs updating — you always have the current version.

Nothing changes

Same sign-in, same details. To remove it, press and hold the icon and delete it, like any other.

Rather not bother?

Perfectly fine. Everything still reaches you by email, and every link in those emails works without signing in.

Powered by Backstage Baton
Membership hub for community bands · backstagebaton.com

Backstage Baton on your phone
v1 · August 2026